An Extra 400 'Drop In' For Lunch, School Cafeteria Passes the Test

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Did you ever have an extra 400 guests arrive for lunch?

Mrs. Gertrude Anderson had this experience on the opening day of school, and handled the situation admirably — successfully serving each and every one, even though students were late to their fifth period classes.

Ike Stumping Iowa After TV Kickoff

Formally Launches Campaign With 'Peace' Theme

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew to the Midwestern farm belt today on his first re-election campaign trip.

The chief executive, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and a small group of White House aides, left by plane for a two-day visit to the tall-corn country of Iowa. He will spend tonight at Boone, Iowa, in a house once occupied by Mrs. Eisenhower's grandmother and father, and Friday will attend the National Plowing Contest at Newton, Iowa.

GOV. LEO HOEGH, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper and other Iowa Republican leaders were waiting to welcome the first family at Des Moines and to accompany them in a motorcade to Boone.

Mrs. Eisenhower planned to "visit" with the farmers and make some remarks at the plowing contest rather than deliver a prepared speech. But he is scheduled to make a speech at the Des Moines airport Friday afternoon before taking off for the return flight to Washington.

MR. EISENHOWER formally opened his nationwide campaign Wednesday night with a radio-television address on a Republican Record of "progress without precedent."

Mr. Eisenhower has been making political statements of various lengths since his renomination, but Wednesday night's speech was his 1956 campaign debut on nationwide television and radio.

He concentrated on three central themes: The domestic economy has improved vastly under his administration.

THE EFFORT for world peace since the Republicans took over in 1953 has been successful to the degree that "not a single nation has been surrendered to aggression."

And, in an obvious shot at the Democrats, he opposed "any theatrical national gesture" such as stopping American H-bomb tests or ending the military draft.

Mr. Eisenhower made a special point of his own health, saying he was firmly convinced of "my own physical strength to meet all the responsibilities of the presidency today, and in the years just ahead."

Mr. Eisenhower's formal campaign opener was no shower of political fireworks. For the most part, it was a sober-voiced appraisal of his administration program, presented as he said, "with out the noise and extravagance usual during a political campaign."

The Weather

Desert area forecast. Mostly sunny today and Friday. Cooler afternoons. High today 85-95 upper valleys, 95-105 lower valleys. Strong gusty winds reaching 25-35 miles an hour at times in afternoons.

High here yesterday was 107, and low was 70.

Mrs. Anderson is supervisor of school lunches for the Palm Springs Unified School District, and when the students started their unprecedented surge to purchase school lunches, 400 more than ever before, she just continued to prepare and serve what the menu called for.

Menu for the day consisted of hot dogs with relish spread, potato salad or cole slaw, watermelon or fruit cup, and milk.

THE PRESENT cafeteria set up in the school district is new this year, with four of the seven schools in the district completing their own menus. Each school has, or will have, a cafeteria manager who is in charge of that particular school lunch service, under the direction of Mrs. Anderson.

In operation now are the cafeteria and managers at Katherine Finchy School, with Mrs. Marjorie Olds; Frances Stevens School with Mrs. Marie Wells; Cathedral City School with Mrs. Jennett Evans, and the Palm Springs High School with Mrs. Marjorie Jensen. Desert Hot Springs School is scheduled for operation by February, and Mrs. Alma Pitts will take over the management of the cafeteria at Cielo Vista School as soon as it is completed.

MRS. ANDERSON estimated that 1500 students were served lunch on the first day of school, and the cafeteria at Cielo Vista was not completed. Children in the Cielo Vista zone either took their lunches or went home.

"A new pattern in school lunch preparation has been set up for this year," said Mrs. Anderson, "and we are serving such things as homemade rolls, (baked in the school kitchen), and low-calorie salad plates that are already very popular with the girls (in high school)."

Unlike the operation last year, students at the high school are given a choice of different dishes, and a combination of any of the dishes comprises a complete grade A lunch. Elementary school lunches are served with a choice of one or two dishes. As an example, Mrs. Anderson pointed out the menu for next Monday's lunches in both the elementary and secondary schools.

Monday, the high school student will have a choice of navy bean soup or carrots and peas; hamburger on a bun or ham and scalloped potatoes; chilled orange or tomato juice or macaroni salad or cottage cheese with fruit; apricot cobbler or melon or fruit cup or jello with fruit; and one-third quart of milk.

That day the elementary schools will serve navy bean soup with crackers, cottage cheese and fruit, bread and butter, apple cobbler or fresh pear or pure orange juice, and one-half pint of milk.

IN PREPARING the lunches for the children, an actual count of the number to be served in the elementary schools is made first thing in the morning, but at the high school this cannot successfully be done so Mrs. Jensen must estimate the number of lunches she will serve.

The school lunch program has made big strides over last year, but still to be solved is the situation of service to the high school students who must wait in line to get their food. On the first few days the lines were slowed because of the "choice" they had to make between dishes, but Mrs. Anderson said today that the students are rapidly getting used to this procedure and are moving faster in the line.

About the only solution to this problem is the larger cafeteria service counter at the high school, and the board of education is today pondering this question.

Airline Pilot Talks Bog Down

MIAMI (AP)—The National Mediation Board failed today to settle the two-month labor dispute between National Airlines and its more than 300 pilots.

After two days of talks in the latest moves to get the airline and pilots together, both factions were reported in disagreement.

Big 3 Delays Suez Plan For 10 Days

Parley Will Recess Friday Until Its Governments Act

LONDON (AP)—The Big Three decided today to put off formation of a Suez Users Association for "10 days or until its governments can agree on proposals for its organization."

A high western source said the 18-nation London conference is expected to end Friday with a "draft resolution or charter which delegates will take back to their governments for final decisions."

The source said it might take two weeks to get the association in operation after approval by the various governments and it would be the middle of October before the plan could go into effect. Officials believed Egyptian operation of the canal might run into trouble by then.

Legal and technical experts set to work today on the charter. Their assignment was to frame a compromise on the original association plan to make it acceptable to the neutral nations.

The committee of experts was formed at this morning's session. At the afternoon session the experts reported back to the full conference on the work they had done. Foreign ministers of the 18 nations waited nearly half an hour for the committee to wind up.

Western sources reported agreement among most of the nations that a Users Association should be set up.

Two Fire Calls Here in Minute

Two fires, reported within one minute of each other, were listed as caused by faulty wiring when Palm Springs firemen last night held the losses of both fires to less than $50.

At 9:53 p.m., firemen received a call for a cooler fire at 2070 Via Norte, the residence of Nicholas Louis, and within one minute at 9:54 p.m., a second call reported that an electrical panel at Louise's Pantry had shorted out, filling the restaurant with smoke fumes.

Fire station No. 1 handled both calls.

Can't Stand Smog, So Los Angeles Man Shoots Self

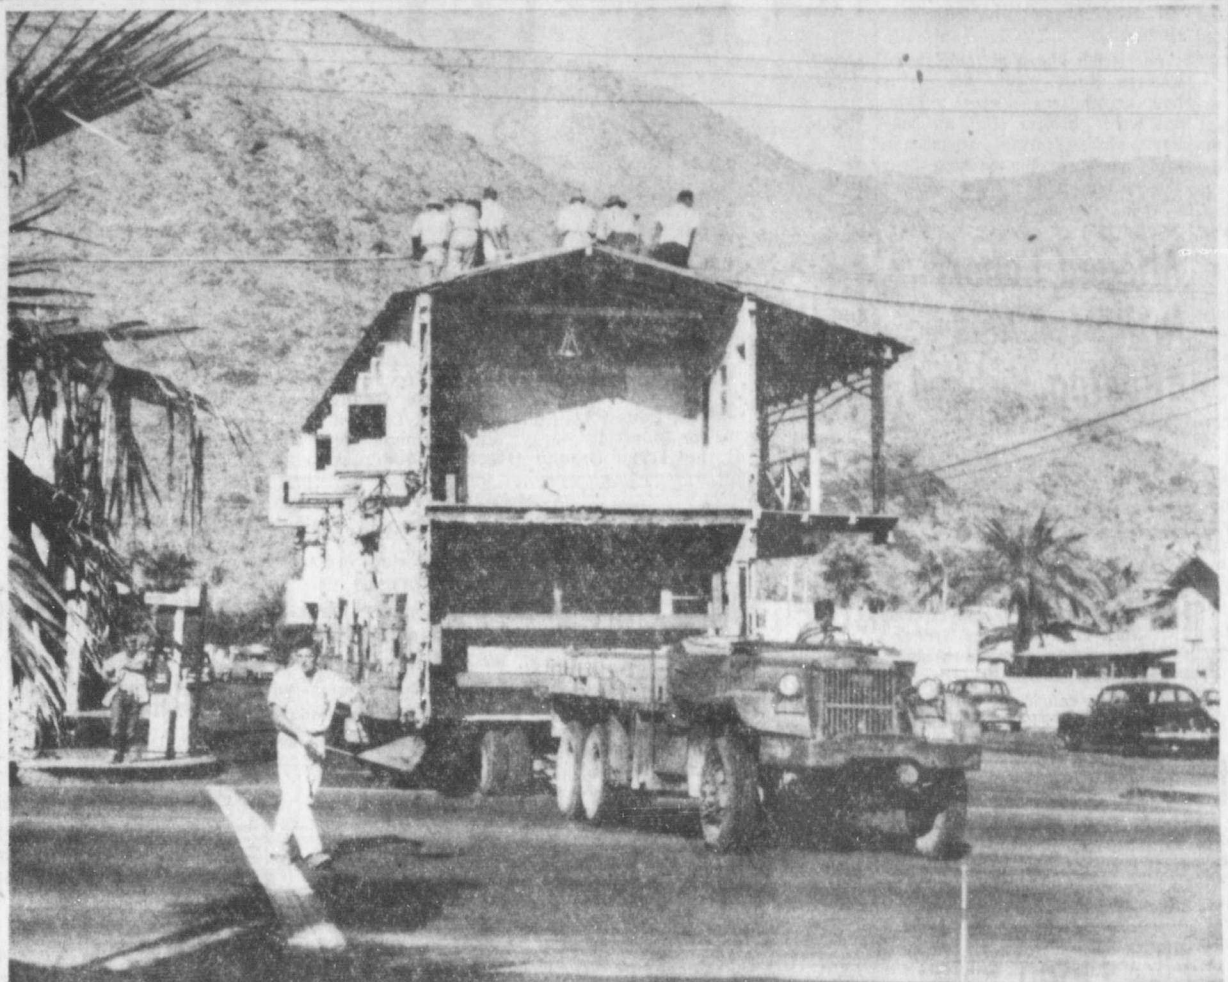

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 63-year-old man shot himself to death Wednesday after leaving a note declaring that he couldn't stand Los Angeles smog fumes any longer, police reported.

Officers said Albion Nelson fired a .22-caliber bullet into his head in the bathroom of his home. A note to his wife, Sigrid, 55, declared: "I'm tired of smog fumes — can't take it any more. Cash in and move out where there is fresh air."

Mrs. Nelson said she and her husband moved here recently from Phoenix. She said her husband found the change in air difficult to accept.

Reports 23-Mile Plane Altitude

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Courier-Express said Wednesday night the Bell Aircraft Corp. X2 rocket plane had reached a record altitude of 23.86 miles. The new record was established in flight tests two weeks ago at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., the newspaper said. This would surpass by far the previous piloted altitude record set by the Bell rocket XQA which was more than 90,000 feet. That record was set Aug. 26, 1954.

1000 Palms Girl Hurt Jumping From Moving Car

A 16-year-old Thousand Palms girl is in serious condition at Desert Hospital today, after she jumped from a moving automobile late last night near Rio del Sol and Ramon Roads.

Caroline Smith, who gave her address as Calle Jessica in Thousand Palms, was being taken home by Jack Fletcher, 26, of Palm Springs and according to the California Highway Patrol, for apparently no reason jumped from the automobile as the driver slowed to cross the railroad tracks.

According to CHP Capt. Ruel W. Blohm, Fletcher is not being held, but they are awaiting the chance to question the girl.

Miss Smith is reported in very critical condition at Desert Hospital today after two hours in surgery this morning. According to the attending physician, she apparently struck her head on a hard object as she leaped from the moving vehicle, and suffered a skull fracture and brain damage.

Stevenson Gets USW Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today had the support of the United Steel Workers of America in campaigning for the nation's highest office.

The union at its annual convention Wednesday adopted a resolution to concur in the action of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in backing the Democratic team of Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.

One Channel on Translator TV

Palm Springs Translator Station, Inc., which is now awaiting approval of the Federal Communications Commission prior to bringing television in an ultra-high frequency, will bring in one channel, No. 4, at the start of operations instead of four as stated in yesterday's Desert Sun.

President Howard Morris said that this channel will be the first to be offered, with channel 2 to be added at a later date.

Ultimately, it is proposed that five channels will be offered.

Plans Completed For the Highest Building in World

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—A Swiss architect has completed plans for the highest building in the world, it was announced today.

According to blueprints by Prof. Alexandre Sarrasin of the Lausanne Institute of Technology, the reinforced concrete structure will be 1,800 feet tall and will cost an estimated $4.6 million. The Empire State building in the United States is 1,472 feet tall and is topped by a 222-foot television tower.

State Jurists Order Historic Speed-up Step

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California's Judicial Council established "pretrial conference" Wednesday as a mandatory procedure in civil cases.

The procedure which requires a conference of the judge, lawyers and litigants before a trial was described as the most significant step taken in 80 years to speed up the administration of justice in California's case-jammed courts.

The rules of members of the council, appointed by the state's chief justice, are mandatory for the courts.

The only civil actions in which the pretrial conference is not required is in "short term" matters, cases which can be settled in less than two hours.

Knight Stunned to Learn His Speech On Court Rules Was Secretly On Air

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's speech to the California State Bar was televised quietly Wednesday to prove that court proceedings can be recorded and photographed without disturbance.

"I'm astounded," Knight exclaimed after the speech. "I had no idea I was being televised. It was a demonstration completely lacking in disturbance or distraction."

CHIEF JUSTICE Phil S. Gibson of the California Supreme Court agreed. He said, "I wasn't in the least conscious of the demonstration."

The demonstration was produced by Attorney Justin Miller, past president of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters.

Passersby Bluff Laundry Bandit Into Surrender

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—An unlucky bandit who held up a Chinese laundry, was chased by a posse of passing motorists and bluffed into surrender by an unarmed traffic officer.

Police said the robber, Ocie Kyle Parker, 21, Inglewood, Calif., was identified as the man who staged two other armed robberies in Lumberton recently.

Parker entered the Chinese laundry armed with a pistol and robbed Bow Quan of $116. He dashed from the laundry with the order "Let's go buddy, I've got a gun."

He waved several pedestrians from a nearby taxi stand with his pistol and commandeered Preston Driver's taxicab with the order "Let's go buddy, I've got a gun."

The taxi drove away but a half dozen passing cars, attracted by Bow Quan, chased it through some 10 blocks of downtown Fayetteville.

The taxi was blocked by a passing train and Parker honned out and hid in bushes along the railroad tracks. The pursuing cars arrived and a crowd of citizens and police officers moved in.

The policemen deployed behind cars with drawn guns. An unarmed traffic officer, Sgt. W. A. Davis, spotted Parker behind a bush and ordered him to "come out with your hands up." Parker meekly handed the loaded pistol to Davis.

Ives Thinks Ike Will Lose Two Southern States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) expects President Eisenhower to lose two of the four Southern states he carried four years ago and possibly some others.

But Ives predicted Wednesday Mr. Eisenhower will win reelection even if his margin of victory is smaller. The President carried 39 states in the 1952 election victory over Adlai Stevenson.

The senator told reporters he expects Mr. Eisenhower to lose Tennessee and Virginia which went Republican along with Florida and Texas in 1942. He said the President may carry Florida again but the outcome in Texas is "most doubtful."

Economist Says U.S. Taxes Can 'Be Cut Plenty'

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Adoption of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission would mean a $5.5 billion annual cut in federal taxes, a Washington economist said here Wednesday.

Theron J. Rice, a special coordinator for the commission, said "taxes can be cut and cut plenty" if Americans would "trim the size and cost of this hydra-headed government which is threatening to become our master instead of our servant."

Rice addressed some 150 industrial and business leaders at a lunch sponsored by the North Carolina Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report. He said the commission's "carefully conceived economy blueprint" is a "glittering opportunity" for cutting taxes.

He said announcement of a balanced budget for 1957 is "far from comforting" because of higher revenues produced by the prosperity we now enjoy.

Rice said "in no sense is the 1957 budget an economy budget, because it ignores numerous expenditure reduction opportunities."

He said government spending "is on the rise again" and noted that the 1957 estimate of $69.1 billion is $4 billion higher than the January estimate.

Rice said the Hoover program could mean a reduction of about eight per cent in overall taxes and if the cut were applied "entirely to personal income taxes, this saving would permit a 15 per cent reduction."

Acts to Boost Level of New Housing

Four Moves Follow President's Request For Credit Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House today announced four new government actions designed to strengthen the home building industry and make it easier to buy low cost homes.

The action reduced the down-payment requirements for FHA-insured homes costing no more than $9000 from 7 to 5 per cent, eased mortgage sale requirements to make mortgage money more easily available, and relaxed the borrowing limits of members of the Home Loan Bank System to meet the heavier demands for mortgages.

HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR Albert M. Cole said the actions "will be of particular benefit to home buyers of modest means" and will "raise the level" of housing construction in the nation.

The action was taken by government home financing agencies in response to President Eisenhower's request for a review of housing credit needs in the United States.

The actions followed strong complaints from the housing industry that the government's hard money policies are holding down home construction across the nation.

They said would-be home owners and builders in many areas are having trouble arranging mortgages because of "tight money" situations and higher interest rates.

GOVERNMENT statistics show that homes are now being built at the rate of 1.1 million a year, compared to 1.3 million starts in 1955.

Today's White House statement said extraordinary demands for housing credit are pinching the supply of funds to home builders and home buyers.

This condition, if continued, would restrict home construction, adversely affect the small builder and the home purchaser of modest means, the statement said. It added that difficulties also would be created for small businessmen in the lumber and other building supply industries.

Nixon Says Foes Belittle West's Power Problems

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon talked of power, peace and prosperity today to the power-conscious voters of the Pacific Northwest.

But Nixon stressed as much as anything in his whirlwind tour the "morality" of the Eisenhower administration and the need for a Republican Congress to carry out its program.

Scarcely rested from Wednesday's busy campaigning in California, Nevada and Oregon, Nixon launched into one of the toughest days of his 32-state ordeal.

Today's schedule called for him to appear at rallies in Boise and Nampa, Idaho, and in Spokane, Wash. At midnight, he flies to Rapid City, S.D., for a campaign assault on the Midwest Friday.

In remarks prepared for appearances at Boise and Nampa, Nixon accused the Democrats of "trying to paint in blacks and whites" the "extremely complicated issue" of power development.

He said the opposition's program of "single shot" federal development of all projects, regardless of their circumstances, "will not work because it cannot tap all the immense resources" of the Northwest states.

Cold Arctic Blast Brings Snow to North Michigan

By UNITED PRESS
A cold blast of Arctic air covering the Great Lakes and a light snowfall in Northern Michigan were advance warnings today that autumn was almost here.

Weathermen said fall would officially arrive Saturday at 8:38 p.m. PDT.

A trace of snow fell at Houghton, Mich., where temperatures dropped into the 30's as cold air moved southward across the Great Lakes region. The season's first snow flurries also were reported at Wausau, Wis., and Traverse City, Mich.

The sharp blast of cold air extended from the Lower Great Lakes area southward through the Northern Ohio Valley and into the northern portions of the Lower Mississippi Valley and Texas. Movement of the cold air today was to be southeastward.

In the region of the Arctic air, early morning temperatures ranged from 10 to 25 degrees lower than Wednesday, and had dropped into the upper 20's in some sections of the Upper Great Lakes.

At Chicago Wednesday, the mercury strained to reach 59 degrees, the lowest reading for a Sept. 19 since 1933.

Meanwhile, fair weather was to prevail west of the Appalachians to the Rockies, with a slight warming over the Northern Plains.

Fair skies were predicted for the Southern Rockies westward to the Pacific while scattered showers wet the Pacific Northwest.

10 Pickets Seized As Strike Hits Swift and Co.

CHICAGO — Ten pickets were arrested at Chicago early today in the first report of violence in a strike of some 25,000 workers in 26 states against Swift and Co.

Police Capt. George Barnes said the pickets were seized when they tried to prevent a Chicago Transit Authority bus from entering the meat packing company's South Side plant. Those arrested in two groups of five included a woman. All were charged with disorderly conduct.

The strike began at midnight in Eastern Swift plants after 11th hour negotiations to avert a walk-out were "broken off." An hour later, pickets formed around the main yards of the packing firm at Chicago, where 4,000 workers struck.

Alleged Cohort In Riesel Acid Blinding Nabbed

NEW YORK — The FBI questioned intensively today a burly garment district hoodlum arrested as a "dangerous" accomplice in the Victor Riesel acid blinding attack.

Theodore Rij, 43, former bodyguard to racketeer czar Johnny Dio, accused mastermind of the sneak assault, surrendered meekly to two New York City detectives Wednesday on a crowded midtown Manhattan street corner.

Rij was caught less than 48 hours after the FBI had circulated 200,000 "flyers" and had launched a nationwide search for him.

He was accused of driving the getaway car used in the attack against the labor columnist. The 240-pound "executive" of a dress firm, vehemently denied that he was involved in the April 5 attack.

More Savings Called Only Cure For Tight Credit

CORONADO — Norman Strunk, Chicago, executive vice president of the United States Savings and Loan League, said today the only answer to the tight credit situation is more savings on the part of the American public. Strunk arrived here to address the 6th annual convention of the California Savings and Loan League.

"The actual basic cause of the tight money and high interest rate we have today is that demands for credit are exceeding the supply," Strunk said. "In other words, the supply of savings capital is not great enough to meet the demand for capital."

He said that while tight money is a sign of prosperity, it is, nevertheless, frustrating to both lenders and borrowers. He said it should not be the basis of too much complaint since the very cause of it means full employment and high income.

Fur Fraud Gets Teitelbaum Year

SANTA MONICA — Furrier Al Teitelbaum, whose clientele include many of Hollywood's biggest "names," was sentenced to a year in jail today for staging a fake $247,000 fur robbery at his fur salon last Dec. 27.

Teitelbaum filed notice of appeal and was permitted by Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes to remain free on $5,000 bail. Rhodes sentenced him to a year in jail and five years probation for conspiring to rob his own Beverly Hills store, and a year and three years probation for filing a false insurance claim. The sentences will run together.

Before the sentencing Rhodes denied a motion for a new trial. Teitelbaum could have gone to prison instead of county jail on each count.

State Refuses Deal for Bonelli To Surrender

PHOENIX — The state attorney general's office today refused to "make a deal" for the surrender of former California Board of Equalization member William G. Bonelli without the approval of San Diego County officials. Bonelli, who disappeared from his Kingman, Ariz., ranch about a month ago, offered his surrender teams Wednesday through attorney Joseph W. Morgan.

The lawyer, who represented Bonelli in his flight to avoid extradition to California on an indictment on conspiracy to violate state election laws charges, said he felt sure his client would surrender if Bonelli's extradition appeal was reinstated in the Arizona Supreme Court and if a "reasonable" bond was set.

Arizona Atty. Gen. Robert Morcison said no deal for Bonelli's surrender could be made without the approval of California authorities. He doubted that the official's appeal to the California Supreme Court could be reinstated.

Bonelli's appeal was denied by the high court Wednesday on grounds that Bonelli had become a fugitive from justice. He was ordered arrested Aug. 20 but was missing when officers called at his ranch. The order to imprison Bonelli came after San Diego County Dist. Atty. Don Keller charged that the fugitive was planning to flee the country and go to South America to escape prosecution.

80 Nations Start Drawing Law for Atoms-for-Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Representatives of 80 countries met today to begin the final work on a governing statute for the world's first "atoms for peace" agency.

The agency, to be known as the International Atomic Energy, is the most ambitious phase of the program proposed by President Eisenhower in an address to the United Nations General Assembly on Dec. 8, 1953.

From February to April of this year, representatives of 12 countries — Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, India, France, Portugal, South Africa, Russia, Britain and the United States — did the preliminary work on drafting the agency statute in a closed conference in Washington.

The 12 negotiating governments then invited 87 countries all the members of the U.N. and its specialized agencies — to the final conference opening here today.

As planned, the IAEA would have no control over the manufacture of nuclear weapons. Its sole purpose would be, in the words of the draft statute, to "seek to accelerate and enlarge the contribution of atomic energy to the peace, health and prosperity of the world."

The agency would be given power to act as "banker and broker" for distribution of fissionable materials allotted to it by the atomic powers.

Ultra-Violet Light Used in Studies of TB

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Current research with ultra-violet light at the Veterans Administration Hospital here may result in halting the spread of tuberculosis in areas where the air is contaminated by TB germs.

The study, the first of its kind under actual hospital conditions, utilizes patients with active pulmonary tuberculosis to infect about 200 guinea pigs. The germs are passed from the area occupied by the patients to the animals through an air conditioning unit, which permits the circulation of infected air without affecting the rest of the building.

The experiment, now in its third year, began with the use of a liquid culture of TB germs. The culture was sprayed through the air conditioning duct work which led to a room in which rabbits had been placed. The rabbits thus exposed contracted tuberculosis.

IN THE SECOND part of this initial experiment, the rabbits were similarly exposed, except that the contaminated area was irradiated with ultra-violet light during the period of animal exposure. In this later instance, none of the animals contracted the disease.

The current experiment utilizes TB patients instead of the liquid culture. This method takes about one year to infect a small number of guinea pigs because of the much lower fever of the natural contamination.

If successful, the experiment which is expected to continue for another two or three years, could demonstrate for the first time the exact degree of infectiousness of the air from the rooms of such patients. It will then be possible to measure the protective effect of ultra-violet irradiation.

THE IMMEDIATE purpose of the experiment would be to find a way of protecting a hospital staff caring for TB patients.

However, Dr. Ross McLean, director of professional services at the VA hospital, sees in the study benefits of a much broader scope.

"If it can be demonstrated conclusively that ultra-violet irradiation will render the air of a tuberculosis patient's room completely non-infectious, it will be a great additional advance in tuberculosis control, and may well lead to even more intensive research on a broader scale of possibly great public health importance," McLean said.

What Is a 'She'?

Why, 'Female Ewe'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Several school children were puzzled during a grammar lesson Tuesday as to the proper use of "she" and "her" in conversation and writing. "What's a 'she'?" demanded one youngster. Another student answered, "a female ewe."

Many Thousand Navy Men Volunteer For Job of Being Snowbound 4 Months

DAVISVILLE, R.I. (AP)—You wouldn't think there'd be many volunteers for a mission to a frigid, uncivilized wasteland where the only guarantee is four months of being snowbound and in total darkness.

The Navy didn't think so, either, when it asked for men willing to spend 18 months in the Antarctic, manning seven American research stations.

But the response was overwhelming. Several thousand Navy men offered to aid the vast scientific investigation in a little known area that might be of great strategic value in event of an atomic war.

SELECTED WERE 19 officers and 132 enlisted men. They were chosen on the basis of professional capability, maturity and physical fitness. Dubbed "Operation Bravo," the detachment is winding up special training at the Atlantic Fleet Construction Battalion headquarters here.

The basic mission of "Bravo" is to support American civilian scientists who will study secrets of nature at the bottom of the world. Some of the Navy men also will do research. Eight members of the group, with nine scientists, will spend the winter at a station at the South Pole, where only nine men have ever set foot. Who are the men who volunteered for such a hazardous adventure? and why?

ALMOST A THIRD are typical family men; the rest, carefree bachelors. Their reasons, as told to the United Press, vary.

Electrician A.C. H. Patterson of Charleston, S.C.—"Building power units and stringing lines in a region never before inhabited by man is something a construction man dreams about."

Lt. John E. Zoller of Shelby, Mont., Protestant chaplain, said he volunteered "because it is a challenge."

Radioman Donald L. Bradford of Mesa, Ariz., plans to study for a college degree. "The Antarctic will be full of evenings with nothing to do and no place to go," he said.

Disc Jockey Sets Record

MERCED (AP)—Disc jockey Ken Collins of radio station KYOS, Merced, slept soundly today after establishing a national record of 132 hours of continuous record broadcasts.

Collins, dubbed by fellow employees as "catsaway" when he started his marathon record session last Thursday at 10:30 a.m. took a physician's advice Tuesday night and stopped his show at 10:30 p.m.

The old record was 127 hours set by station KMIN in Memphis.

Just home from a hunting trip is Paul Price. While a guest at the Ramon Somavia ranch near Hollister, Paul bagged a forked horn deer and a four-pointer—one of them with a clean shot through the heart.

Paul was using his Condor .257, a rifle designed and made by Somavia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dever are back in their real estate office on Indian Avenue, North Palm Springs, after a three months' vacation.

Mrs. Lillian S. Corman, who is associated with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schwartz in the Hacienda Riviera public pools, has just returned from a three months' trip through the Northwest; Canada, and to Chicago.

Mrs. Corman's winter home is on Via Colusa in Palm Springs.

John B. Ledwon, nationally known 15-year-old organist who formerly made his home in Desert Hot Springs with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ledwon, will appear today (Thursday) as guest artist with the Huntington Park Symphony Orchestra, as part of the 50th anniversary celebration of the city of Huntington Park.

John is also making a series of appearances on the "Beverly on Three" television show over sta-

Desert Hot Springs and North Palm Springs volunteer firemen this week joined in reminding local residents that they must obtain a fire department permit before burning trash.

Firemen appealed for the co-operation of local householders—many of whom, they said, as new residents may not be aware of county ordinances requiring permits for burning.

If co-operation isn't forthcoming, according to the firemen, a get tough policy will be adopted, and California Division of Forestry rangers will begin issuing summonses to burning violators.

Student Stabs Wife 40 Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 21-year-old University of California law student, accused of dressing as a woman and stabbing his estranged wife in a downtown restroom last week, will be arraigned Oct. 2 on a charge of attempted murder.

The student, Harold L. Von Mueller, was held to face an attempted murder charge at a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Det. Sgts. M. A. Pozzo and R. W. Lane testified that Von Mueller was wearing a dress, pumps and was carrying a purse when he was pulled away from his screaming wife by her fellow workers in the downtown office building.

She had been stabbed 40 times and slashed severely, officers said. Four-hundred stitches were required to close her wounds.

Shooting Victim's Condition Better

Edward Stevens, 24-year-old Desert Hot Springs dishwasher, was taken off the "critical" list at Desert Hospital yesterday, and was reported in "fair" condition. Aluminum Auto Engine is Nearer CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Engineers have solved a major problem which had stalled development of an all-aluminum automobile engine.

The lighter-than-steel aluminum engine uses aluminum pistons moving in aluminum cylinder walls. The obstacle was that aluminum on aluminum caused malfunction in the engine.

Engineers from the Aluminum Company of America and the metallizing Engineering Company tried spraying the cylinder walls with a highly wear-resistant coat of steel.

The steel coating produced the desired effect.

16 Tons? Take One at Least

The situation developed at Memphis when the telegraph company, which is converting to gas heat, was left with 20 tons of coal and was unable to give it away.

FOR BIG JOBS... SMALL JOBS... ALL JOBS

Ford Trucks cost less

And low first cost
is only your first saving

Ford's F-100 pickup with 5-ft. box is the biggest in the half-ton field—up to 19 cu. ft. more loadspace than the others. Regular 6 1/2-ft. box with a full 45 cu. ft. capacity also available.

COME IN TODAY!

● Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. Check what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more in a Ford. For example, more horsepower per dollar—proved by a comparison of factory-suggested list prices and net horsepower of all truck lines. You get more comfort and safety in Ford's Driverized Cab with exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully... consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER

Using latest registration data on 10,502,351 trucks, insurance experts prove Ford trucks last up to 9.3% longer.

UNPLEASANT SUBJECT

Much as we hate to mention flies again—it is a problem which the whole community might as well face. It is not without solution either—but to rid the city of this menace will take the wholehearted cooperation of the City Government and every business establishment and resident of the community.

In a letter to The Desert Sun, a woman who visits here frequently (and hopes to become a permanent resident soon) brings up the subject, and enclosed a clipping of a letter to the Los Angeles Times by a man from Detroit who says his vacation here was spoiled by flies. The woman who called this to our attention says she has the same complaint—nor does she like the messy roadsides that she says exists around here.

These are two pet subjects of this writer—as readers must be aware—and both of the menaces can be eliminated by more thoughtfulness on the part of our residents, and visitors too. The City Government, nor the Chamber of Commerce nor The Desert Sun can do little on their own—it takes the help of practically every one. So all we can do is try and arouse the people to the importance of the problem and cry for their help.

We have pointed out that steer fertilizer used in great profusion on new lawns attracts flies, and that a substitute which is odorless will do the job just as good. We suggested during the summer that the City try it out in one of the parks and show the people what can be done. The product has been used by Deep Well Inn for three years with excellent results. Nurseryman Earl Neel says that steer fertilizer does not attract a lot of flies. Others claim it does.

One of the worst fly breeders, we are told, is freshly cut grass that is allowed to stand in a pile and "cook." This is said to be far worse than fertilizer.

Constant spraying around refuse cans at homes and restaurants—and around riding stables—will help greatly to rid the community of flies. The practice must be persisted in day in and day out to be effective. A spray device of some kind should be kept handy in every home, hotel, restaurant, store and riding stable. Advice as to the most effective insecticides can be obtained from the stores which stock them.

Few communities in the nation have as many beautiful patios and swimming pools as Palm Springs. It is outdoor living at its very best—it is the reason why this is one of the leading resorts of the nation. Let's not allow the common house fly to spoil the pleasure of enjoyment in life in Palm Springs to the fullest extent. It's a battle in which everyone must enlist—the City can't draft you—you must be a volunteer and stay on the firing line every day to win.

As for the Litterbugs who mess up America's beautiful highways, this writer has nothing but contempt. The temptation to cast a bottle, can or other trash out of the car window seems to be overwhelming. But that's another matter—let's get after the flies.

Get a spray and start today!

RECOGNITION FINALLY

(Sykesville (Pennsylvania) Post-Dispatch)

It will be remembered that the Congress has steadfastly refused, over the years, to provide pensions for Confederate veterans, although pensions were provided for veterans of the Union armies. This has always been considered an obvious injustice, even though it could rightly be claimed that Confederate veterans had fought against the Government of the United States. Nevertheless, when their home states were taken back into the Union and were providing a mafor source of the Union's revenue, there was no justification for not allocating money for pensions to all veterans of the War Between the States.

Therefore, we are glad to see that President Eisenhower has signed a bill to award special medals to the four surviving veterans of the War Between the States. Three of them are ex-Confederate soldiers and it is estimated the medals will be worth several thousand dollars.

PROFIT MAKING

(Whiteville (North Carolina) News Reporter)

Anyone who thinks typical businessmen devote much or most of their time to counting the profits would do well to read a report made by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The average manufacturing company, this report shows, spends most of the working day paying off the costs of doing business—materials and supplies, wages and salaries, taxes, etc. Only about 19 minutes of that 8-hour day are left in which to earn profits. And only about half of those 19 minutes result in dividends for the owners—the rest of the "profit minutes" are used for reinvestment in the business.

By contrast, wages and salaries take two hours and 19 minutes, taxes a trifle more than 43 minutes. The workers and the tax collectors do a lot better than the owners when it comes to dividing up the money business takes in. The owner, whether an individual or corporation is successful if he saves his shirt.

OPTIMISM FOR WEST

(Turlock (Calif.) Journal)

If official figures prove anything, Communism is losing ground in both France and Italy. In the latter country, where shop stewards in factories are elected by the workers, the decrease of Communist votes in the last half of 1955 ran from 10 to 20 per cent. The circulation of the chief Communist newspaper has dropped 20 per cent. And Communist-dominated labor unions now have four million members, as against five million at the end of 1955.

In France the Communist Congress gives the number of party members as 429,000. Two years ago, at the 1954 Congress, membership was stated as being 506,000. This is no isolated decline, for 10 years ago the Communist membership was 907,000.

These developments bring no cheer to the Kremlin. They justify a cautious optimism in the West.

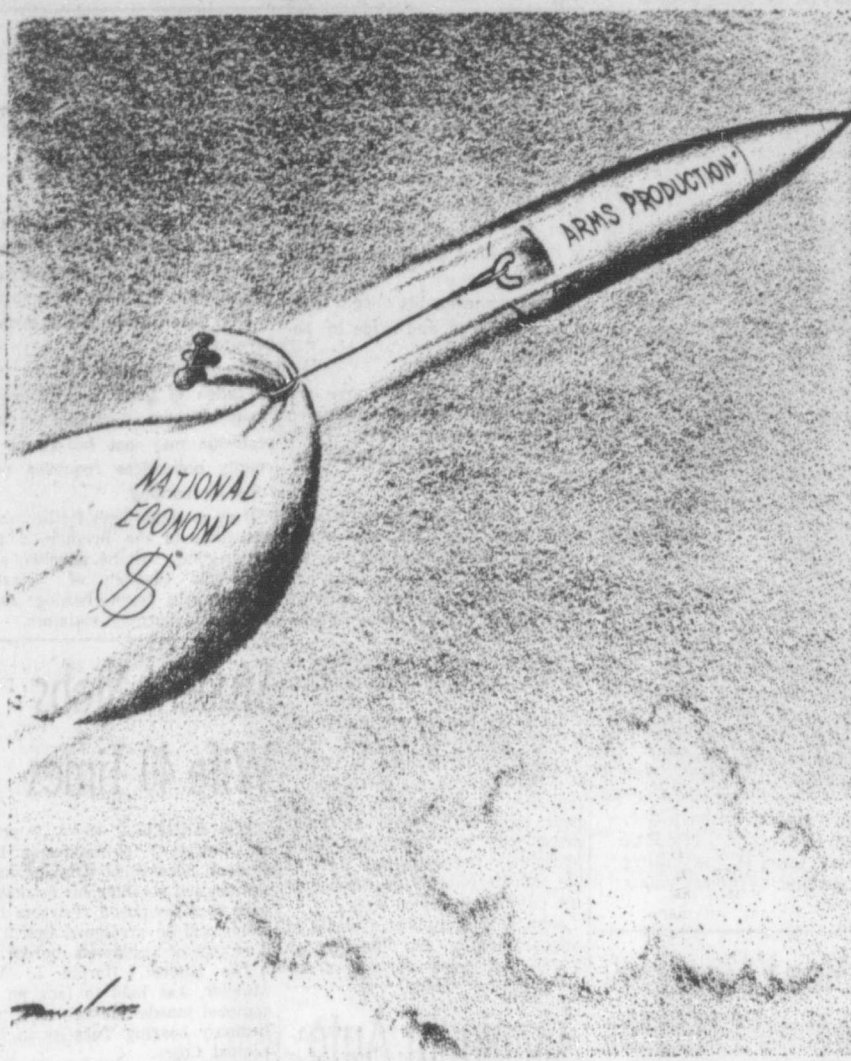

IS THIS THE ANSWER?

(Ashland (Kentucky) Independent)

Of course the difficulty in obtaining the services of experts to undertake necessary jobs about the family house, grown many times more complicated and intriguing than its counterpart of a generation ago, acted as a spur to the do-it-yourself movement. No similar manifestation of self reliance has appeared on the scene since pioneer days.

Dangerous Way to Fly

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Two more days of summer,
Only ten of PDT.
Things are changing quickly,
Soon back to normale.

The sun will rise and the sun will set and you won't notice a scar or other indication that something big has happened. But on Saturday, at 6:36 p.m. (PDT) the Summer Solstice fades and the Autumnal Equinox arrives.

And then at 2 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 30, we will shift our clocks and watches, etc, back an hour. Back to PST.

ALTHOUGH we still have 10 days to go, might as well repeat a bit of advice given me by a jeweler the first time they tried to conserve sunshine.

"Set your clock ahead 11 hours," he said. "Don't set it back. It's bad for the works."

As for me, I started Tuesday. Getting up five minutes later each morning. Come Sept. 3, and I'll be fully prepared for that extra hour of sleep.

Think of the lusers. At 2 a.m. a week from Sunday morning it will only be 1 a.m. and they'll have another hour to flex an elbow.

Which will be great for the people who know their capacity for fiery beverages but can't remember when they get there.

M. R. HARRINGTON, curator of the Southwest Museum, Los Angeles, is perturbed by newspaper stories that the Round House, the old Ceremonial House of the local Agua Caliente band of Indians is to be razed as a safety measure.

"Why stop there?" he asks. "Why not make a project of it and destroy all of the ceremonial houses of all of the California tribes. There are still a number of them in the central part of the state. And while we are at it, why not get rid of all of those old Spanish and Mexican adobe houses? There are still a few left, and their sites would make excellent parking lots. Who cares about California history?"

WELL, SOME TIME next year, Palm Springs, already a BIG city, will have another Big City adjunct. Note that we are assured of two traffic-signal-protected corners, anyway, and maybe more.

Most important is that one at the confluence of Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive. With the rapid growth of the area south and east of the center of town, that is a most important project. Especially since South Palm Canyon Drive has been widened and Highway 111 improved eastward.

There's a lot of traffic at the Y and more is on its way. Signals there will prevent many a tie-up and fender-crease.

Let alone reducing the wear and tear on tempers.

Now—if they'd provide another crossing over Tahquitz Creek between the Drive and Sunrise Way—it's gotta come. Just as that wider bridge.

JUST TO REMIND you, next week is National Dog Week. For my part I am going to recommend several of the horses which raced at Del Mar the past, late lamented season. Either for that purpose or a good glue factory.

Next week is also designated as another week which will have no effect here—National Tie Week. We don't wear 'em.

EARL WILSON:

Flash! Mrs. Allen Watches Ed

NEW YORK — Steve Allen's B.W. Jayne Meadows sits home Sunday nights and watches Steve on TV—but also switches over to Ed Sullivan. "Just so I can tell Steve what Ed's doing!" she insists. . . . The housewife named Grace Kelly and the "Mr. Rainier" who appeared on Perry Como's show got $100 each. "It's easy to get 'guest stars,'" says chief writer Goodman Ace. "Just look in the phone book."

Confidential Publisher Bob Harrison made a quick recovery. He is around the cafes (and Gene Courtney's back in town). . . . Olga, the dance teacher, alleges that a nonmember is a "waltz-flower." . . . When lovely Lisa Kirk wore a very low-cut gown singing at the Plaza, a cynical journalist said, "She's worried about that dress; she's afraid it won't fall off."

Johnny Lujack, now a Chevy dealer in Davenport, Ia., travels more than when he was a Notre Dame grid great. Each weekend he flies here for CBS' "Football Roundup" on TV. . . . Sam Goldwyn said in England, "Why pay to go see a bad movie when you can watch television and see a bad one for nothing?" . . . Elvis Presley sings like Marilyn Monroe walks," says the German magazine, "Quick."

Taffy Tuttle was a flop as a shoe clerk. When a customer asked for alligator shoes, she said, "What size is your alligator?" . . . Sid Caesar, who did his first fall TV show in pain, will have to have another slight operation. . . . Globe-Trotter Irving Hoffman's off on the Queen Mary and will spend Christmas in Italy or the Middle East. He looks forward to missing television for a while.

SUCCESS STORY Be the first in the office every morning, the last to leave at night, never be absent, always work through your lunch hour, and one day the big boss will call you in and say, "I've been watching your work very carefully, Jones. Just what the hell are you up to?"

Roz Russell has 22 costume changes and five hairdo changes in upcoming "Auntie Mame."

which'll come into town with close to $1,500,000 advance—biggest in B'way history. Perle Mesta's decided to give her a big society-type party about Nov. 1st a month after the opening. Roz'll play Perle's life story ("The Hostess With the Mostest") in films in '57 or '58 with Perle cut in as a partner.

Frank Sinatra's singing protégé, Peggy Connelly, is dating Hollywood actor Billy Redfield. . . . Female impersonator T. C. Writer Eli Basse, now with Jackie Gleason (having given up all cafe star clients except Joe E. Lewis), says, "What's all the fuss about the Suez Canal? I've seen it and the water's filthy."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Elmer Merman mentioned at El Morocco she hopes "Happy Hunting" won't run three years, "only 18 months." . . . Toots Shor, who brags that he was once a Philadelphia bum, addressed the famous Poor Richard Club. . . . The Harwyn (rival of the Stork) inaugurated an open-Sunday-night policy and somebody cracked, "Everybody in town was here but Sherman Billingsley."

Ex-Mayor O'Dwyer'll be here for the Series—if the Dodgers win. . . . NBC grabbed Nat "King" Cole away from CBS for TV guest shots. . . . Mrs. Martin Block (wife of the d.j.) says she'll go ahead with the divorce. . . . Lynnda Lynch, formerly of "Pajama Game," opened at Ben Maki's this week with her dance group.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "In Hollywood an actress won't wear a dress that isn't an original—but she'll take a second-hand husband."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Olin discussed a fading actor: "Once his name was plastered all over town; now he is."

Mickey Freeman appeared on WATV, smallest of the N.Y. TV stations, and said, "It's so homey here—the only station I know that rents rooms in the back." . . . That's earl, brother.

Skirt-Trouble In Business

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Business has run into "skirt trouble" in moving to the outskirts.

Many a large company, deciding to move from the heart of town to the more spacious suburbs, finds that transferring the office is easier than transferring the secretary.

The gals are just plain reluctant to continue on jobs in which they can't shop or get their hair done on their lunch hour.

And most employers confess that the good secretary, stenographer or file clerk—female—is so much in demand in today's labor market that she can just about tell the boss where to locate the office and make him like it.

ONE LARGE insurance company, Connecticut General Life, Hartford, Conn., is solving the problem by calling its women employees in to help plan its general headquarters five miles from town.

A five-member women's advisory council, selected from the 1800 employees, became a clearing house for employee suggestions.

Louise Christensen, a former WAC officer and now secretary to one of the company's vice presidents, headed the council. On a recent visit to Manhattan she reported that some suggestions were thrown out early.

"We saw no need for live peacocks on the grounds, or for a parking lot for helicopters," she said.

"BUT THE GIRLS got the color schemes they wanted—soft greys and greens."

"We made a special trip into New York just to select the patterns for silver and tableware for the employees' cafeteria."

"We will have piped-in music in recreation and lunch areas. The company is providing display space for Hartford stores so we can still shop on our lunch hour."

THE COUNCIL also okayed suggestions for a lending book and record library; air-conditioning; a shoe repair and dry cleaning pick-up and deliver service; a frozen food store; and barber and beauty shops.

"The beauty shop will give the girls haircuts free," Miss Christensen said. "They'll have to pay for manicures, facials and other services."

The offices open this fall. General Foods said it ran into the same "please the women" problem when in 1954 it moved its 1200 general headquarters employees from Manhattan to White Plains, N.Y.

"The girls don't like to leave the convenience of shopping on their lunch hour . . . even if they don't spend a dime," said Al Christie, headquarters personnel manager.

Film Shop

By RON BURTON

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Ernie Butterworth, a Warner Bros. department head, thinks that he shall never see a tree in a WB film that isn't right where it belongs. Butterworth is chief of the studio's Green Department.

He is somewhat of an unsung hero, according to his co-workers, who spend his time making sure the right trees, shrubs, flowers and other flora form just the right background as scenery.

Butterworth, who has been called a tree-casting director by those who teasingly underestimate the importance of his job, usually can fill an order for a film's trees from the studio's back lot and green houses. However, recently he had a problem—also his biggest "extra" call—when he had to come up with a jungle for "Santiago."

THE STORY CALLS for Alan Ladd to fight his way through a dense jungle to deliver arms to Cuban revolutionaries fighting Spain. The jungle actually covered five acres on the Warner lot. Because of the variety of plants required for authenticity, Butterworth had to do some botanical ferreting in Hollywood, where he found a fancy nursery that handled most of the more unusual plants needed for the film. Some of those required were palms, loquats, pittosporums, olive trees, willows, cottonwoods, a dracina draco and bamboos by the carload.

THE NURSERY AND studio were able to find all those needed between the studio flora and the nursery's exotic collection. The nursery had to locate some trees at various spots in Southern California.

Butterworth's duties generally don't call for such endeavor so far afield. Usually he has plenty of plants to line a walk or to supply a distant background.

"I'm always careful in choosing my trees," he said. "That dracina draco, for example, cost $800, but it has real character and is worth it. Trees are like actors to me. Some support a scene beautifully and fit in. Others would ruin the whole effect."

"AND WE TREAT our 'players' with care. For 'Santiago' we moved them to the lot and transplanted them and then used an overhead sprinkler system to water them. Making the whole jungle look an even two months."

Butterworth said that when he took his job he was very green. "Now it's just my thumb—I hope," he said.

Letters To The Editor

Praises Drug Law

To the Editor:

When President Eisenhower recently signed a bill making the punishment for the conviction of illegal sale of narcotics more severe and even making possible the death sentence for the illegal sale and distribution of heroin, it was universally acknowledged as important and worthy legislation. There is no question but that such drastic punishment is not only very necessary but the enactment of such legislation is long overdue.

Narcotic addiction, fostered and fathered by the illegal sale of narcotics by vicious and absolutely unprincipled criminals who show complete disregard for human rights and life, is a very serious and growing problem undermining the very basis of the American way of life. All too often the victim is a youth snared in the horrible mesh of hopeless addiction.

Because of this profound affect upon youth, Optimist International viewing its Aim and Objective to "aid and encourage the development of youth throughout the world," in convention assembled at Optimist International at Houston, Texas, in June, 1954, did adopt a resolution that urged the enactment of severe penalties including the death penalty for the illegal sale of narcotics. This resolution, phrased in the more definite and uncompromising terms, was unanimously adopted.

Since then Optimists everywhere have worked continuously and vigorously to influence legislators and law enforcement officials to effect the enactment and passage of such legislation. Obviously it is with a sense of real pride that Optimists recognize the achievement of the goal they worked so hard to accomplish. Now, of course, it is important that our judiciary have the strength and courage to use these new laws and punish narcotic violators in the degree necessitated by their horrible crimes.

It is our sincere conviction that this legislation will do a great deal in removing and eliminating the most vicious and degenerate criminal alive today, the illegal vendor of narcotics.

SAM BLACK,
President, Palm Springs
Optimist Club.

PROOF LIPSTICK There's reason why Eskimos kiss by rubbing noses. When the temperature is around 40 below zero, noses naturally have a tendency to get frostbitten, and there's nothing like rubbing them together to bring back the circulation. The lipstick this particular Eskimo Belle is modeling is made from a secret formula developed by the Schwine-Kitzenger Institute and it contains lanolin, coloring and anti-freeze. It's only one of a line of beauty aids the Institute hopes to have on the market for neglected Eskimo Beauties. Other products will include: Hot Cream; Igloo Permanent Kits; Whale-scented soap and a Deodorant that also repels Polar Bears.

Supervisors Receive More Protests On Cahuilla Road Name Change Plan

The majority of the people of Anza are against changing the name of Cahuilla Road, Paul Hittson, real estate agent, told the county supervisors this week. He presented a resolution adopted by the Anza Grange in opposition to any change, as well as a petition signed by several residents. He said more petitions are being circulated and will be presented later on. One such petition was presented two weeks ago.

The Coachella Valley-to-Ocean Highway Association proposed change of the road name to Anza-Cahuilla Road. They said Anza people favored inclusion of Anza in the name as the road passes through that town. When no one in opposition was on hand at a hearing Sept. 4 on the proposed change, the supervisors ordered preparation of a resolution to effect it.

Later that day, however, William McGrew of Cahuilla appeared with a petition against the change, so the supervisors decided to withhold adoption of the resolution until Supervisor Fred McCall in whose district the road lies returns from his European trip. He is expected back the first of Oct.

Hittson said that the name Cahuilla has been given the town where the old Indian church is located and that Ramona and her husband were buried close to the Cahuilla Road.

"The name is historical," said Hittson, "and the majority of the people do not want to see the name of this Indian Tribe forgotten. If the name is changed to Anza-Cahuilla Road as proposed, the 'Cahuilla' would soon be dropped and it would become commonly referred to as the Anza Road. This Indian Tribe was a noble people. They are dying off, but the historical facts should be preserved. We like the name 'Cahuilla Road' and do not want to see it changed."

It's estimated that there are between 20,000 to 40,000 different species of fishes.

County Orders Alteration of Subdivision Law

Preparation of an ordinance which will except from the county subdivision ordinance requirement for a performance bond for all work required and unfinished at the time of acceptance of subdivision map, the amount necessary to install a water system where such is required if the county is provided with an agreement to complete such improvement work, was ordered by the board of supervisors this week as recommended by County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr. and the county planning commission.

The ordinance stems from a suggestion by Doyle F. Boen, general manager and chief engineer of the Eastern Municipal Water District, that such an exception be made in cases where the agreement is to be made with a public agency.

Sullivan said the limitation to public agencies would not be proper or necessary, but that otherwise Boen's suggestion is sound.

Sheriff Rice asked for $841.51, the price quoted to him by Jerry's Boat Shop in East Blythe for new equipment. A new boat would cost $375, new motor, $482, steering wheel and controls $60, a total of $917 less an allowance of $100 on the old boat, a net of $817 plus tax.

DESERT EMPIRE MOBILE HOME PARKS

By VIRGINIA DAVIS

Although the Annual TCA Trailer Rally opening date is Oct. 24, many of the mobile parks are already "Trailer Rally minded" and are beginning to plan their hobby exhibits at the Show, which will be Sunday, Oct. 28.

Some of the Parks have scheduled Hobby Exhibit Shows early in October, at which time selections will be made of outstanding articles of merit worthy of display at the Trailer Rally Hobby Show. Articles made only by residents of the various Parks may be entered.

Last year there was scarcely room in the vast arena at the polo grounds for this interesting Hobby Exhibit—some parks requiring as many as four 14 foot tables for their display; and judging from the interest now being shown, an even larger exhibit is anticipated.

HORIZON will open the season with an Open House Party and Dance the evening of Oct. 3, to which residents of all Parks featuring dances are invited to attend. This lively and fun-loving Park has an attractive program of entertainment for the season; dancing three nights a week, which will include square, modern and pattern dancing, with Ray and Inez Johnson as callers. One night a week will be open to residents of all other parks featuring dances.

The spacious recreation hall is an ideal setting for the many holiday parties given during the season and semi-monthly Community Dinners.

Horizon's popular "Coffee Hour" will continue every day the same as last season; bridge and canasta parties Wednesday evenings, with all-time card playing in the club room.

Shuffleboard is the popular outdoor sport, and many of the play-offs take place each year at Horizon.

A NEW AND VALUABLE asset to Horizon is the little cafe which is under the management of Herman and Agnes Keil this season and will specialize in homemade pies, hot biscuits, homemade bread and muffins. The cafe will open Oct. 1, as well as the grocery store operated by John and Rose Caniff.

Leo and Gil Paquette are owners-managers of this popular park, but upon entering one will be greeted with a smile by the efficient assistant manager Lee Provis, who will offer information and make reservations.

With a TV in the air-conditioned recreation hall and the beautiful pool, many remained through the summer, including Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bond, Irene and Van Vanlohn, Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes, May Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller (managers for the summer), Chris and Loretta Milkoff, Micki and Peg Carter (on TV last week in "Trust Yourself or Trust Your Wife"), and Edna McFarland.

Recent arrivals: Dixie Williams, Chuck and Marie Clark, Effie and Fred Rector, Edwin and Ethel Halstead, Bill and Helen Butler, John Glock, Ted and Opal Ross, Martha and John Ritzman, Margaret Patterson, Allen and Dorothy Salter, Elmer and Gen Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rithgery, Ralph Attel, Charles and Nina Williams, Raymond Haues, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Hoffman, Mary Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Warren and Millie Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vanderploeg, Howard and Lee Provis.

DESERT TRAILER VILLAGE has a valuable asset in being located within a few blocks of the main shopping center of Palm Springs. The Desert Museum with its fine lectures several nights a week, and without charge, the library, good restaurants and theaters are easily within walking distance of the Park.

Desert Trailer Village is owned and managed by Bob and Mildred Ritchie, and one is impressed with the neat overall appearance of the grounds, restrooms and laundry.

The Park does not go in for large parties and dancing. They have their regular potluck dinners and card playing in the attractive club room at all times. The ladies gather at the club house once a week when they bring their lunches and play cards, sew or just converse.

PALM VALLEY TRAILER Village: This little Park of 80 spaces nestled behind beautiful oleander hedges, flowers and shrubbery, and located in one of the most scenic parts of the desert—just west of Thunderbird Country Club and Blue Skies Trailer Park—has the background and setting to become one of the loveliest Parks of the desert area.

The new owners, Ruth and Ernest Stevens, feel all it needs is a "vision of its possibilities," and this young couple from Woodland, Calif., have that "vision" judging by the additions and improvements under way now at the Park.

Although the Park is modern in every way, they say they want it "ultra-modern." The office, reception room and club room are being modernized, and the predominant colors throughout the Park are aqua and sand. The heated and filtered pool, with its spacious patio, will be adorned with potted shrubbery and reclining chairs, and will be used during the season for pool-side parties and other entertainment.

All tamarisk trees and hedges are being tailored down and a variety of new trees planted and the entire grounds landscaped.

A special service in the Park will be a private shower and toilet if desired, and at a very nominal monthly fee. However, there are heated bathrooms and modern laundry.

Excellent TV reception is to be had in this section of the desert and there is a TV cable to each trailer and no antennas necessary. A section is reserved for children and they are welcome.

DE LUXE: When you hear that old familiar call over the loud-speaker — "John, a trailer in!"—then you know the season is here, and John, who has served De Luxe for eight years, immediately appears with his jeep and helper and expediently and efficiently parks the trailer. If it is an old-time resident of De Luxe the name is announced and all their old friends go down to greet them and welcome them home.

De Luxe had its second practice dance Wednesday night, with Art Hendershot calling, and the Wednesday night practice dances will continue until the regular dances begin.

A "Hobby Exhibit" is scheduled for Oct. 19 in the Arts and Crafts Studio, at which time selections will be made for entries at the "Trailer Rally Hobby Show" at the Polo Grounds.

JESSIE AND CLARENCE Adams arrived yesterday from an extended trip up the coast visiting friends and relatives in Eugene, Ore., then to their old home town, Olympia, Wash., arriving in time to attend a house-party hosted by Ruth and Charles Brisbin at their summer cottage at Black Lake, Wash. Twenty-two were present, all De Luxe residents. Returning home via Redding they stopped for a visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cox; then to Wilmington for a few days with their son and family, Dr. R. E. Adams. They reported a wonderful time but happy to be home.

New arrivals are Elvira and Dave Evans, Cecil and Bob Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Greeley and daughter Diane, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams, Bill Blandin, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Murtha, Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson and daughter, Grace, Mrs. Binning, Lillian Peterson and son, Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Parks, Mrs. Lorene C. Adelman, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. John Down and children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones and two sons, Mrs. Irene O'Keefe, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil House and son Ned.

AN ORIGINAL and interesting idea has been introduced at De Luxe, using the planets and constellations as the central theme, thus associating the spaces of terra firma with those of our solar system and the areas beyond.

Signs are now hung on all the streets each bearing the name of a planet. The "Home of Happy Spaces" has been adopted as their slogan. At the entrance of the park a sign reads—"Parking area in the Milky Way," indicating the direction. The semi-monthly De Luxe paper has the name "The Happy Spacer." The older section of the park is known as the "Inner Space," and the newer section the "Outer Space." And a club is being organized called "The Happy Spaces Club."

Recent arrivals at De Luxe are: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Heuman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beck, Guy Oliver, Mrs. Binning and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kauer and Mr. and Mrs. William Heinze and daughter, Susie.

County Settles Tax Claim Suit

The case of March Field Homes, Inc. versus the County of Riverside was not brought to trial, County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr. told the board of supervisors Monday, and a settlement has been reached whereby $42,997.19 of the $192,611.72 taxes paid by the corporation under protest are to be refunded.

The county's share of the $42,997.19 is $14,968.11. The rest will come from taxing districts of the area near March Field where the property is located. An amount of $149,614.53 will remain with the various taxing agencies.

Quiz Show Stalls Churchill's Son, Time Saves Him

NEW YORK — Randolph Churchill, British writer and son of Winston Churchill, escaped disaster on "The $64,000 Question" television quiz program Tuesday night through the adroit maneuvering of master of ceremonies Hal March.

Churchill "blacked out" and could not think of a common word in answer to the $128 question in his chosen category, "the English language." The word was boycott.

He twisted, squirmed, rubbed his hands and scowled in deep thought, but could not come up with the word. As he admitted "blacking out," a pretty attendant, Lynn Dollar, announced that the show had run out of time.

March, who had been squirming himself in an effort to get Churchill through his difficulty, immediately invited the journalist back for next week's program.

Married Contino Heads for Hawaii

HOLLYWOOD — Accordionist Dick Contino, 26, and his 25-year-old bride, actress Leigh Snowden, left today for a combined honeymoon and business trip in Hawaii.

The newlyweds spent the night at the hotel and then left by plane for Hawaii where they will honeymoon. Contino also will entertain at a club there.

Contino met the Universal-International Studio starlet from Covington, Tenn., 18 months ago on a blind date.

War Secretary Gets Protection

LONDON — Secretary of State for War Anthony Head has been given police protection because of a series of threats against his life.

The threats were believed connected with EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground organization with strong connections in London.

State Lawyers Shun Race Issue

LOS ANGELES — Delegates attending the 29th annual meeting of the California State Bar refused Tuesday to take a firm stand on the politically-tinged issues of racial segregation, the Cahan decision and Los Angeles smog.

With a studied effort to "stay out of politics," the 360 attorneys attending the meeting voted down proposals which would have placed the state legal organization in a positive position on all three issues.

Bonelli Claims Attorney Plans His Kidnapping

KINGMAN, Ariz. — Mohave County Sheriff Frank Porter said today he had received a letter from fugitive William G. Bonelli in which the former California official said he had "gotten word the San Diego attorney planned on kidnapping him."

Porter said the letter was postmarked from Phoenix Sept. 13. He said he had turned the letter over to the San Diego sheriff's office. "I have absolutely no idea where Bonelli is or why he sent me the letter," Porter said.

Ship 16, by Ulrich Mohr as told to A. N. Sellwood (John Day): During the two world wars, Germany's commerce raiders performed some of the most fantastic feats in naval history. Operating alone and thousands of miles from base, they evaded destruction for months on end by ingenuity, daring and "raider luck."

Ship 16 is the story of one of the most successful of these legal pirate craft — Atlantis, which in 20 months of World War II covered 100,000 miles and sank 22 ships before being sunk in her turn.

Masquerading by turns as 'Russian,' British, Japanese or Norwegian — with a different "makeup" for each role — Atlantis deprived the Allies of 150,000 tons of shipping and nearly 1,350 seamen. Only some 60 of these men were killed in unavoidable battle by Atlantis; the rest were picked up and interned.

Atlantis' most notorious exploit was the sinking of the Egyptian (nominally neutral) liner Zamzam, which was carrying 138 Americans and a number of other passengers around the Cape of Good Hope. The sinking was a blunder. Atlantis believed the Zamzam was a British naval auxiliary. But it was not as inexcusable as Allied propaganda made it appear: the ship was running blacked out, in violation of standard neutral practice, with a load of oil and trucks for the British army in the Middle East.

It is an exciting and absorbing account of gallantry and skill on the high seas in the most hazardous type of naval operation.

In the 30 years that have elapsed since Arnold Toynbee began his monumental 10-volume "Study of History," he has found himself ever more drawn to the thought that perhaps religion lies at the base of our history. The result of this growing conviction he now presents in "An Historian's Approach to Religion" (Oxford).

To a certain degree Toynbee in this volume retraces the ground covered in the earlier "Study"; the difference lying in the perspective from which he considers historical phenomena. Beginning with the earliest known records of religious experience, Toynbee follows the growth of religious thought down through the centuries. Toynbee's investigation limits itself to Western religions, predominantly Jewish, Roman, and Christian.

Padua Hills To Recess For Month

When the current production of "El Limoncito" comes to a happy conclusion on September 15 at Padua Hills, the wonderful cast, known as the "Mexican Players," will be at their leisure for a two-week vacation. This is the 24th consecutive year for the players, and their contributions to south of the border understanding and good will would fill many a volume on building international relations.

Some of the players speak only a minimum amount of English, although they are afforded lessons as part of their own education at Padua Hills. However, their outstanding talents and deep feelings of friendship and appreciation constitute expression enough to make the Padua Hills Theatre one of the truly worthwhile cultural institutions in the world today.

Upon their return, the players will present "Festivals" on October 10. Unlike most of their famous productions this will not be a play with the usual plot, climax and conclusion. "Festivals" is a most colorful and unique presentation of three different fiestas taken from Veracruz on the coast, Chihuahua in the great plains, and both Oaxaca and Tehuantepec in the State of Oaxaca.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. — It's the silly season again. We've gathered all our picking paraphernalia, our anti-fluke fluid, upset-stoppers, ouija boards, divining rods and brought it down to the land of golf courses for a test run.

So far, it is working fine on picking golf winners. Let's see how it will do in football.

Baylor over California: Last time these teams met at Berkeley, the Baylor Bears waxed the Golden Bears, 25-0. Pappy Waldorf is supposed to come up with the "good" team this year for a change. But our guess is that he'll get off on the wrong foot while doing a bit of experimenting. Baylor, 18-14.

TEXAS OVER Southern California: The Trojans probably will get off to a slow start again. No matter what the boys say, the morale at some of the schools is going to be down a bit due to the recent bit of investigation. USC will be better later. Longhorns, 27-20.

Washington over Idaho: The Huskies have been hurt by the probe, too. But Coach Darrell Royal, a new man in the North, should bring his boys safely through the first test. As usual, the Vandals are short on experience and depth. Huskies, 33-0.

STANFORD OVER Washington State: It's hard to picture real live Indians in an aerial circus, but that's what the Cougars will have to face when John Brodie starts hurling those passes to Carl Isaacs and Gary Van Gilder. Indians by 34.

College of the Pacific over Colorado A&M: The Tigers unveil Dick Bass, the greatest prospect in intercollegiate ball — packing circles. By 19.

Oregon State over Missouri: Our upset special of the week. Coach Tommy Prothro is the up-and-coming coach of the Pacific Coast Conference. By a point.

UCLA over Utah: The Bruins

Women Sues Archie Moore For $750,000

TOLEDO, Ohio — Heavyweight championship contender Archie Moore was named today as defendant in three suits totaling $750,000 by a suburban Cleveland woman who accused the boxer of backing down in his promise to marry her.

The suits were filed in Common Pleas Court here by Mrs. Dollree Mapp, Shaker Heights, Ohio, former wife of heavyweight Jimmy Blivins, Cleveland.

The three separate suits ask $250,000 each for Moore's alleged proposal of marriage; for an alleged attack on Mrs. Mapp in her home Oct. 4, 1955 and for an alleged attack on Mrs. Mapp's 12-year-old daughter on the same October night.

In her suits, Mrs. Mapp contends that Moore proposed to her in October, 1954, and a year later went back on his word.

Yanks Taking Series Orders

NEW YORK — The American League champion New York Yankees now are accepting mail orders for tickets for the third, fourth, and fifth games of the World Series to be played at Yankee Stadium.

Missouri's Faurot Ending Long Career

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Don Faurot the greying 54-year-old master football tactician of Missouri, will end 31 years of coaching at the end of the current season, he announced Wednesday night.

may be hurting — but not that bad. They could win by 50, but probably will settle for 20.

Oregon over Colorado: Coach Len Casanova has some fine backs and if the line will hold, the Webfoots may have something to say about who will go to the Rose Bowl this year. By 12.

San Jose over Drake: If the Spartans can lick the injury jinx they may come up with a pretty good team. By 10.

Don Newcombe Now on List Of 'Greats'

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Don Newcombe's taken his place with the majors' greatest pitchers of the last 20 years—whether the Brooklyn Dodgers win or lose the pennant.

With the possibility of three more starts in the last 10 hectic days of the National League race the 240-pound right-hander already has:

1. Became the NL's fourth 25-game winner since 1936.
2. Compiled a 45-11 won-and-lost record for the last two years that gives him an .804 percentage and a chance to equal a record held by Lefty Grove.
3. Been the Dodgers' "big guy" with a 16-1 record since July 4.

Big Newk, who swings a mean home run bat in addition to his pitching talents, "took charge" Wednesday when he blasted two round-trippers and stole a base in leading the Dodgers to a 17-2 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to open up a .004-point, half-game lead over the Milwaukee Braves, who were rained out of a scheduled game in Pittsburgh.

Newcombe gave up seven hits, including homers by Al Dark and Stan Musial, before retiring in favor of Don Bessent with the Dodgers leading 15-2, after seven innings. Sandy Amoros and rookie Don Demeter also homered for the Dodgers while Duke Snider had four hits and drove in three runs in the 17-hit Brooklyn assault on five pitchers.

WEDNESDAY'S VICTORY again evened the Dodgers with the Braves in the "won column," each with 88 and left Brooklyn with 57 losses compared to 58 for Milwaukee. The Braves, therefore, are on the spot to beat the Pirates today or drop two games behind in the "lost column" with seven games to go.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, still hoping for the miracle which will vault them back into serious contention, swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phils, 6-3 and 6-0, to move within four games of the Dodgers. Wall Post hit his 32nd homer to help Johnny Klippstein win his 12th decision in the opener while Tom Acker pitched a three-hitter and George Crowe homered in the nightcap.

THE NEW YORK Giants downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-2 and 3-2, virtually dooming the losers to a last-place finish in the other NL activity.

The American League champion New York Yankees were idle but the Cleveland Indians helped Bob Lemon gain some personal satisfaction for the season with a 6-0 victory over the Washington Senators in a game held to seven innings by rain. Lemon, who yielded five hits, reached the 20-victory circle for the seventh time in his career.

Al Kaline, continued his late-season bid to win the RBI crown, knocked in four runs with a 4-for-4 day as the Detroit Tigers scored a 9-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles. Ray Boone also homered for the Tigers as Frank Lary turned in an eight-hitter for his 19th win. Kaline now trails Mickey Mantle by only one RBI.

Harry Simpson's grand-slam homer sparked the Kansas City Athletics to an 8-1 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

12 Enter $2600 Monrovia Purse

POMONA — A field of 12 thoroughbred three-year-olds was slated to go a short six furlongs today in the $2,600 Monrovia Purse at the Los Angeles County Fair.

Listed as the top runners were Jennie Dudley, One Selection and Sweet As Pie, a trio of winners at Del Mar this summer.

Others slated to go postward were Chingadero, Add Seven, Best Hold, Daring Moment, U Knighted Way, Witch's Witch, Mad Roman, Highwire and Indian Dan.

New Survey Shows 4,836,000 U.S. Women Fished and Hunted in 1955

NEW YORK — The big game woman stalks these days is just as apt to be a lion as a scion.

Uncle Sam has published the first comprehensive survey on who does the hunting and fishing in these United States. It reveals that women, in numbers which amaze the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, are taking to field and stream.

The researchers, hired by Crossley, S-D Surveys, Inc., reported that 4,836,000 women hunted or fished in 1955. The figure is about 20 per cent of the total of 25 million men, women and children over 12 who hunted or fished.

The service wanted to determine how many "man days" and how much money were spent on the two sports.

Spending in 1955 totalled nearly $3 billion on everything from food to ammunition, the survey estimated. The researcher did not attempt to determine just how much of the total was spent by women. But they did find that women take to rod and reel more often than the rifle.

Some 5 million women fished in 1955; only 250,000 hunted. But the hunters are a fearless lot gunning for big game as well as small game and waterfowl. Alongside the men.

REASONS FOR the increase in women anglers and hunters the researchers didn't find officially. But they unofficially go along with one candid wife who said, "my husband is an avid fisherman. I decided if I couldn't change him, I'd join him."

The researchers found whole families who hunt and fish, although some of the women said, "We do more cooking than catching."

The 300 interviewers—most of them were women—also were an intertidal lot. One woman hired a jeep, a guide and borrowed long underwear during a winter-time trek into rugged territory in California.

Another, who later confessed she'd never before ridden horseback, hired a pack mule to reach one remote area.

"I've had men leer at me, dogs bite me, floods deter me," another wrote her supervisor. "But like the postman, neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom..."

Preparing for Colorado Strategy Puzzles Oregon

EUGENE, Ore. — Coach Len Casanova isn't sure what his University of Oregon Ducks should be ready for when they tangle with Colorado this Saturday.

"Last year, Colorado stayed pretty close to the straight single wing," Casanova said. "Running from the single wing T and winged T now, they can just do anything. What they can do best and what they will concentrate on is hard to figure out."

CORVALLIS, Ore. — The Oregon State Beavers should be in pretty good shape for Saturday's game against Missouri—but Coach Tommy Prothro is having a little "wing" trouble.

Earned Durden, one of the two top alternates at wingback, has pulled a thigh muscle and is on the doubtful side for the contest. The other top alternate at wingback, Sterling Hammack, is nursing a shoulder bruise.

PULLMAN, Wash. — Coach Jim Sutherland came up with a surprise Wednesday when he announced the Washington State starting lineup for Saturday's game against Stanford in Spokane.

Sutherland appointed Dick Windham, a transfer from Valley Junior College in Los Angeles, to the right end starting position over Jack Fanning, who has been playing the flanker spot since spring practice. Windham had been working for a right halfback spot.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Don Millich, a promising sophomore halfback, quit the University of Washington football team without reason Wednesday and returned to his home at Aberdeen, Wash.

Millich, who scored five touchdowns during an intra-squad tangle last week, was held in high regard by Coach Darrell Royal, who said the boy could have developed into "a ranking Coast Conference back."

MOSCOW, Idaho — Coach Skip Stahley has decided to use sophomore Kenny Hall at the fullback spot when his University of Idaho Vandals play the Washington Huskies at Seattle Saturday.

Hall, only a youngster among junior and senior veterans, has been pushing hard for the position ably handled last year by Wilbur Gary—and he is even wearing Gary's number.

STOCKTON, Calif. — Right halfback Tom Perry was a stand-out Wednesday Coach Jack Myers ran his College of Pacific Tigers

Richardson, Seixas in Cup Quarterfinals

LOS ANGELES — Ham Richardson and Vic Seixas, stars of the U.S. Davis Cup team; today gained the quarterfinals of the Pacific Southwest Tennis Tournament after scoring straight set victories over their respective opponents.

Richardson defeated Davis Cup teammate, Mike Green of UCLA, 6-4, 7-5, Wednesday to remain in the battle for the singles championship. Seixas easily downed veteran Ted Schroeder, 6-2, 6-4.

THE MOST stunning upset of the tournament was turned in during the afternoon when Australia's Lew Hoad, top-seeded foreigner, went down to defeat at the hands of Alex Olmedo of Peru, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

It was the most impressive win of Olmedo's career. The University of Southern California star broke Hoad's service in the first set and then held Hoad practically helpless with smashing serves.

Hoad managed to rally in the second set and on a service break was able to win the set, 6-4. Olmedo, seeded seventh among the domestic contingent because he attends SC, displayed his powerful serve in the final set and ran the score up to 5-3 before Hoad rallied to take a game.

SECOND-SEEDED foreigner Ken Rosewall of Australia also gained the quarterfinals by defeating Hugh Stewart, Pasadena, 9-7, 6-2. Rosewall was seeded behind his countryman despite his victory in the recent Nationals at Forest Hills.

In the featured women's match, top-seeded Althea Gibson easily downed Lorna Raymond, Arcadia, 6-3, 6-4.

Smith Favored In Welterweight Bout Tonight

LOS ANGELES — Tombstone Smith, Los Angeles, and Dave Johnson, San Francisco, square off tonight for the vacant California welterweight title in a 12-round main event at Olympic Auditorium.

Smith was picked as a solid favorite over the Northern California invader. The lanky local boxer has won his last 10 starts.

In his last start, Smith decided Charley Sawyee in a thrilling bout at the Olympic. Sawyer recently upset the world's fourth ranking welterweight, Virgil Akins.

Dean Cromwell, 77, Still Exudes Optimism on Sports

LOS ANGELES — Dean Cromwell, the famed University of Southern California track coach who now is retired, celebrated his 77th birthday today with his usual optimism on matters of sports.

"The United States this year has the best Olympic team it has ever had," said the smiling, still vigorous Cromwell. "Athletes are better than they ever were and they are going to continue to get better. I've always believed that."

"I had been saying for 12 years that the four-minute mile mark would be broken before it was officially."

The celebrated track mentor—who retired as Southern California coach in 1949 after 30 years at the university — recently completed working in an advisory capacity with armed forces track athletes helping them prepare for the 1956 Olympic trials.

With his usual enthusiasm, Cromwell said that being invited to work with the service athletes was "one of the greatest—if not the greatest—thrill" in his years as a leading track and field coach.

MORRISON ON GOLF

Swing Downward in Down Swing

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

"IT'S AS PLAIN as the nose on your face!" Maybe so, but when did you last see your nose? Possibly when you looked at yourself in a mirror. Otherwise you looked right over your nose without seeing it. Such is the case with many essentials of your golf swing.

One of the most important of these is the need to start your down swing downward. Seems silly to put it this way.

Perhaps the real worth of the statement might register better if it were turned around. Your arms, hands and the club are likely to move in the wrong ways if you don't emphasize the downward movement when starting your down swing.

The main reasons for your arms and hands moving in the wrong ways is fairly obvious when you stop to think of them. One, your hands always tend to move independent and subsequently contrary to the movement of your body.

Two, your arms tend to move away from instead of staying close to your body.

Three, the correct back swing develops considerable torque in the body. As this torque is released in the down swing it tends to send the arms away from the body as the baseball player moves his arms in swinging a bat.

ALL OF THESE tendencies

are perfectly natural. They represent what you would do instinctively. Your job is to beat their influences. Assuming that you have made a fairly correct back swing my instruction is:

Ken Venturi starts his down swing with upper arms close to his body. This is necessary to swing the hands and club into the proper striking position. The upper arms always tend to move out from the body.

"Try to whip your hands and the club downward with all possible emphasis." Along with this you must avoid dropping your head or allowing it to sway to your left. By concentrating on swinging downward you'll come into the ball in a better striking position. By holding your head steady until well after impact you'll have no lessening of clubhead speed.

When first trying this, stand erect and swing well above the ground.

Latest Atomic Energy Test Is in Orchard

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—Atomic energy in the orchard! Scientists at the Brookhaven National Laboratories on Long Island and at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station here are making a joint study to determine the effects of atomic energy on fruits.

Apples and grapes have been treated with X-rays and bombarded with particles made available by nuclear research at Brookhaven. And, while most of the effects have been harmful, the scientists hope that when fruiting stage is reached, the radiation will bring about certain changes that may prove of practical value in fruit-bearing programs.

UNDER THE PRESENT program, apple and grape seeds, dormant scion wood of apples and dormant rooted grape cuttings—all exposed to radiation—are grown under gamma rays at Brookhaven, then sent here for observation.

So far, the researchers have found that, for example, buds of apples grown in a gamma field have died, growth has been stunted and abnormal types of leaves have developed.

BUDS OF CONCORD grapes growing near the radiation source break later in spring and may produce shoots with leathery, misshapen leaves and no growing tip. In the first seasons, irradiated grape cuttings and apple scions have shown suppressed growth and distorted leaf and stem patterns, but these usually disappear in the second season growth.

The important thing, however, is the small changes in hereditary make-up of plants by radiation. Pomologists at the station hope exposure will cause more "sports" and that some of them will have qualities useful in fruit-breeding.

House for Sale, With Great Dane

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—A sign reading "House for Sale with Dog," would not be unusual in suburban Aurora. It simply would mean that Peggy, a 150-pound Great Dane, was due for a new set of owners.

The giant dog has lived happily on a nine-acre estate for five years and is now on her third set of owners. Anyone buying the house has to accept the bounding giant, or the deal is off.

Peggy took a liking to the woods and the rambling, white ranch-house when her first owners, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweet, brought her home. The Sweets eventually moved to Florida, but Peggy insisted on staying, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burchfield bought her along with the house.

Mr. Burchfield died this year, and the home was sold again to the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown.

The Browns were wary of the huge dog, but wanted the house enough to agree to the unusual deal. Now they admit Peggy is as much a part of the establishment as the front lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dom Tusó of Ukiah are disposing of their property there, and will take up residence in NPS soon.

CHP to Enforce School Bus Law

School bus safety is the responsibility of every motorist, says the California Highway Patrol.

"School buses are now rolling, carrying our children to and from school," Patrol Commissioner B. K. Caldwell reminded today, "and accident free driving by school bus drivers will require full attention to the law by all concerned."

The law requires motorists to stop and not pass a standing school bus when the two red lights on top of the bus are flashing," Caldwell emphasized. "Although, it is not necessary to stop before passing a stopped school bus when no red lights are flashing, it is prudent to be prepared for any unexpected move by the children getting on or off the bus."

School bus drivers are permitted to use the flashing red light only when children must cross the highway," he continued. "With school starting, all of us should be mindful of the school bus law and help keep our children alive. Always expect the unexpected of school children."

Howard's Village Pool Campaign Is Successful

Sportsman Bob Howard, who is readying his fashionable Howard Manor for its Oct. 10 opening, should be in line for a vote of thanks from the desert resort city. This is because his all-out campaign to gain recognition for Palm Springs as "The Swimming Pool City" has been crowned with brilliant success. Many newspapers throughout the country have picked up the habit of using the swimming pool appellation for Palm Springs.

Contributing substantially to Howard's campaign has been his diligent counting of Palm Springs swimming pools. Through this activity he has been able to establish conclusive proof that Palm Springs enjoys the world's highest per capita swimming pool rate. There is now one pool for every 11 1/2 residents.

According to the hotelman, who has built four swimming pools in Palm Springs himself, the August total of pools built was 19. Three have been built so far in the current month, which brings the grand total to 1159.

DHS Post Office Changes Schedule

The Desert Hot Springs post office will return to a schedule of two mails daily on Oct. 1. Postmaster Hgrace Brown announced this week.

Outgoing mail hours will be 9:15 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The hours at which incoming mails will be in the boxes will be approximately noon and 3 p.m., the postmaster said, but he emphasized that a heavy volume of incoming mail may make these hours a little later.

New York harbor covers 1,500 square miles, says the National Geographic Society. Sprawled across parts of two states, the port handles about half the nation's foreign trade in dollar value. Of the 4 million persons gainfully employed in the New York-New Jersey area, one out of every eight makes his living directly or indirectly from port commerce.

Family Background Fails to Reveal Why Three Sons Killed Their Father

Editor's note: Why did three children plot to kill their father? An official psychiatrist of Los Angeles County will probe the mental processes of the youngsters to find some answer to the riddle. Meanwhile, in an effort to cast some light on last week's unusual patricide, United Press sent a writer to the home to see how the family lived.

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NOWALK 4—The guns were handy and maybe the kids rebelled when they were restricted to the house by their father. They weren't used to staying indoors. Watching all that shooting on television.
"My husband Thomas, loved the children and he was good to them... I don't know why they killed him."
Mrs. Betty Parker, wearing a cotton maternity housedress and no makeup, spoke haltingly as she sat in the living room of her modest home.

IN THE SMALL three-bedroom house, in which eight persons lived with a ninth on the way, tensions erupted into tragedy last Tuesday. The three oldest children—Tommy 10, Bobby 9, and Richard, 7—conspired to murder Parker, apparently because he confined them to the house as punishment.

The Parkers live in a new $10,870 tract house they purchased a year ago. The pleasant tract has wide streets and well-kept lawns, and stands near a freeway leading to downtown Los Angeles.

The house, furnished with inexpensive early American-style furniture, is as neat as any house in which five children live. Mrs. Parker's mother also lives there.

"WE WERE MARRIED 12 years ago," said Mrs. Parker. "We met in Kernville, up north. He was in the Navy. I was going to high school."

Parker, 31, worked in the construction business but was hit by strikes. A year ago the family moved here and he got a job at Bethlehem Steel—also hit by a strike. During a 35-day walkout he mortgaged their 1951 station wagon to feed the family.

The boys had been confined by their father to their room for a week as a punishment, detectives said, for "taking some stuff from a neighbor's garage." Seven-year-old Richard pulled the trigger last Tuesday, while his father napped in the bedroom. The boys told deputies they also intended to kill their mother.

MRS. PARKER DENIES they were being punished.
"Some of the neighbors began blaming them for everything after that garage incident," she said. "Tom told me we'd just have to make them stay home for a while so they wouldn't get blamed for everything that happened in the neighborhood."

Mrs. Parker, the victim's parents and other relatives who have arrived since the tragedy, described Parker as a good father who played with his sons, provided them with good food and never drank.

"HE SHOWED THEM guns because when we lived in the country it was necessary to protect yourself," Mrs. Parker said. "My husband's father and stepbrothers were hunters, too. From the time my kids could walk they knew what guns were."

The boys never caused trouble in school, Mrs. Parker said. Tommy got straight A's. Bobby got A's and B's and Richard B's and C's.

Tom Bailey, the victim's stepfather since he was 12 days old, said, "The Parkers never went to movies because they couldn't afford to. They never went anywhere without those kids."

A PSYCHIATRIST told United Press: "The older boy obviously is not normal. He has problems and with guns handy that made it easy for him. Looking at shooting on TV would not harm a normal boy."

Parker left insurance to his family. Mrs. Parker plans to move to another community so her children will not be subject to taunts at school.

"I don't think the boys had malice in their hearts," one of her relatives said. "They still don't realize what they've done, or what death means."

U.S. Mail Men on Alert for Unusual, Have Notable Record as Samaritans

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Your mail man does more than peddle letters from Aunt Martha and the "look books" from the mail order houses. He is on the alert for the unusual.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's lads make a sideline career of neighbor-helping, saving lives, squirting out fires, stopping runaway trucks. In other words, they are samaritans; also fine Americans.

The Postal Service News tells of many a man who, while going about his "appointed rounds," dropped his mail bag to save a life. "Sometimes," according to the Post Office Department, "they are so modest, we have to go to the authorities to learn their identity."

TAKE THE CASE of mail-lugger Robert L. Trot Walker. He was prowling his beat when he heard the wail of small children. That was in Fort Pierce, Fla. A house was on fire, and "Trot" kicked his way through burning debris to rescue four small children.

After that chore, he picked up his sack of mail and went about his business. Nobody knew that our "Trot" was the hero of the piece until the kids' parents went to the Post Office to learn the name of the mailman on the beat.

In the same state, in Lake City, a kick and a holler from Fort Pierce, carrier Joe T. McCormick was honored for saving some kids from another flaming home. After that heroic performance, postmaster Grady A. Warren said: "He was so modest we didn't know anything about it until the fire chief told me."

TYPICAL OF THE spontaneous reaction to a mailman's love of his "customers," most of whom he never sees, was the remark that Jesse N. Hawkins of the Washington, D.C., post office made after he had saved a mother and kid from a burning house. All Jesse said was: "I had to—I heard a child cry."

Heroes unsung. William L. Pilz and Alvin Metzger of the Paramus N.Y., post office rescued a crippled fellow from his blazing wheel chair. They turned the $20 tip the man's son gave them to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Not all of the cases, of course, involve the threat of a fiery death. MAILMEN ARE ALERT when there is an automobile accident where folks are pinned under the tangle of steel. There was a case not long ago when a photographer for the Jersey Journal and Observer took a picture. His caption said: "Jersey City girl lies bleed-

Toastmasters Of DHS Change Meeting Place

Commencing next Monday, Sept. 24, the Desert Hot Springs Toastmasters Club will again begin meeting at Addington's Steak House, President Skip Wright announced.

No dinner will be served at the Sept. 24 and Oct. 1 meetings. The Oct. 8 meeting will be installation night, with Jack Morey taking office as president.

Also taking office will be T. N. Ford, first vice president; Gilbert Holloway, second vice president; Richard L. Roderick, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Stafford, sergeant-at-arms.

Members will bring lady guests. Speakers of the evening at the last meeting were Sam Benton, discussing "Is Capital Punishment Justified?"; Bill Harvey, whose topic was "Rivers," and Hugh Green, who discussed "The Suez Situation." Benton was the cup winner.

Toastmaster of the evening was Les Morgan. Table topics chairman was Paul Price, with the topic of the evening being "Why I Don't Like..." John Addington was chief evaluator, Stafford was timer, Ford was grammarian, Garnet Taylor was the "ah-man" counter and Harvey was the "ah-man" winner.

Road Speed-Up Could Save Lives

PITTSBURGH — Speed-up of the nation's road building program from 20 to 10 years could save 200,000 lives, according to a report to the American Automobile Association.

Glenn C. Richards, commissioner of public works at Detroit, Mich., asserted the super-roads would drastically reduce the number of traffic accidents and highway fatalities. He also said better local roads would permit working men in the city to get home for evening meals without the worries of being late.

Richards participated in a panel which explored the developments stemming from the $33 billion federal highway program enacted at the last session of Congress. The panel featured activities at the AAA's 54th annual meeting.

Parisian Gets Check Sentence

Jean Francoid Boudon, 19, a native of Paris, France, was given a 90-day suspended sentence in Judge Eugene Theriau's justice court yesterday on a charge of issuing "no account" checks. The suspended sentence will be in force if restitution is not made within 10 days.

Birmingham, Ala., is the site of the South's largest steel-making industry. All materials—from iron ore to the minerals used in processing steel—are native to the area.

Waymond Richard Hatcher, 26, Thousand Palms appearing at preliminary hearing on a car theft charge, was held to answer in superior court.

Jailer Can't Stop Prisoner's Suicide

MANDALAY, Burma — A jailer stood helplessly outside a central jail cell here and watched while prisoner Maung Nyi Aye hanged himself. The cell keys were with the chief jailer who was absent.

'Public Service' Taxi Started In Hot Springs

Announcement that he is reviving his taxi service in Desert Hot Springs, as a community service, came this week from Ed Money-penny.

Desert Hot Springs has been without taxi service since the death of the late S. A. (Whis) Whisenand.

He will begin his service, which he will call the Courtesy Taxi, as soon as his telephone is installed in his new home. Minimum fare will be $1. There will be no charge for extra passengers.

In making his announcement, he emphasized that he isn't anxious to stay permanently in the taxi business. He'll be glad to make way for "any legitimate operator" who wants to enter the business here.

He suggested, also, that someone in the village might be interested in making a deal with him as a driver.

Until he gets his telephone, he added, if you need a taxi and happen to see him on the street, he'll be glad to oblige.

A Bloom at Last

MADISON, Wis. — Mrs. Frank Edgerly, rural Madison, has about 1,000 plants growing in her yard and home, but one has become her favorite. A cactus she has had for 25 years bloomed recently for the first time.

Kidnapping Anniversary Reminiscing Brings Warning of Light Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO — Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, a man who speaks from bitter experience, said today that convicted kidnapers should be kept locked up for the rest of their lives because they cannot be rehabilitated.

It was just one year ago yesterday that the three-day-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Marcus was kidnapped from its hospital bassinets. Nine days later the infant was returned by the kidnaper, Betty Jean Benedicto, 31, who sobbed, "I just wanted a baby so bad."

The woman was committed to a state mental hospital but a few months later she was pronounced cured. Last March she pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a year in the county jail. With time off for good behavior, she could be free next Jan. 2.

"WE BEAR NO MALICE toward the woman," Marcus told United Press.

"But I often wonder if the lightness of her sentence might have encouraged the persons who kidnaped the Weinberger and Ruotolo babies in the East."

Dr. Marcus said that while the Benedicto woman did not steal baby Robert for ransom, nor did she harm him, the fact remained that "our suffering was not reduced one whit" during the nine days their child was missing.

"Kidnaping is the most heinous of all crimes because it tortures the parents," he said.

"KIDNAPERS OBVIOUSLY are not mentally sound. They cannot be rehabilitated as members of society. We can only hope that swift punishment will deter possible kidnapers in the future."

Dr. Marcus vehemently criticized the "ridiculous extremes" to which insanity pleas have succeeded in bringing light punishment for criminals.

"I don't ask for a return to barbarism," he said, "but I believe that the threat of strong punishment can get through to many of the irrational and deter them from crime."

American Wines Termed Better

PARIS — Many American wines are better than the daily table wines served in France, a French wine expert said today.

M. Ladener, who visited the United States as an "ambassador of French wines," said on his return to Paris that wine drinking is on the rise in America.

The number of wine drinking American families increased by four million during a four-year period, he said.

Navy Decides To Skip Draft In Securing Men

WASHINGTON — The Navy has embarked on a full scale recruiting drive to keep up its strength without resorting to the draft as it had to do last year.

Expressing confidence that the sea service can be kept entirely voluntary, personnel officers disclosed Tuesday that an intensive plan is under way to recruit 133,000 men in the year ending next June 30.

Much of the success of the plan will depend upon reaching a 25 per cent re-enlistment rate for men completing their first four-year terms. The rate now runs at 10 to 12 per cent compared with four per cent at the end of 1954.

The 133,000 prospective recruits in fiscal 1957 will be needed to maintain the Navy's strength at 598,200 enlisted men and 73,800 officers.

Driver Ticketed, Takes Revenge

SPRING LAKE, Mich. — Norman D. Devecht, 22, became angry when he got a ticket for speeding. Devecht vented his anger on a police car he found parked behind city hall.

He ripped a stop sign from the car's hood, tore a siren and red light from its roof, bent a spotlight mounting, twisted a windshield wiper and dented the roof.
